SPONSOR SCOTLAND'S REWILDING EVENT

REWILDING FOR NATURE, CLIMATE AND PEOPLE

SCOTLAND: The Big Picture is proud to host the fourth biennial Big Picture Conference, our flagship event bringing together a diverse community of people committed to nature recovery. Since our first conference in 2019, rewilding has grown into a powerful movement for change, offering a vital solution to the dual climate and biodiversity crises.

This year, you could be part of a day of inspiration, practical insight and meaningful connection. Our programme will feature a range of expert speakers exploring some of the key themes for rewilding in Scotland – from the crucial role of communities, to fostering coexistence in rewilded landscapes.

Together, we will explore what it means to live in a wilder world and how each of us can help drive this change.

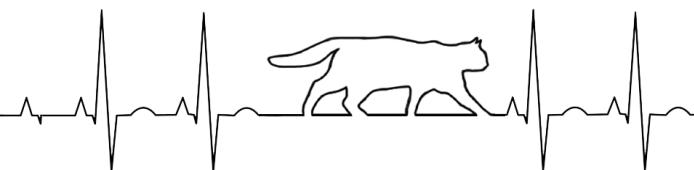

Sponsoring the conference offers a unique opportunity to align with a forward-thinking, impactful initiative and to engage directly with a passionate and influential network of practitioners, policymakers and advocates. We hope you will join us for this key date in the rewilding calendar and help shape the future of Scotland's natural landscapes.
